Think Lonavla and the first thought is Bhushi Dam or their famous chikki. For those of us living in Mumbai, Lonavla has always meant a long drive out of the city or a quick getaway during the monsoon to beat the heat. However, Della Adventure successfully redefines what Lonavla means to most of us.

Set amidst the hills, a visit to Della Adventure which is also the largest adventure park in India proves to be a complete weekend holiday for the entire family. Whether you're looking for an adrenalin rush or simply want to calm your senses — there's a little something for everybody. Primarily an adventure park that offers over 86 exciting activities, the park also boasts of three restaurants, a spa and salon, swimming pool and 30 luxurious tents.

The ideal way to experience all that Della Adventure has to offer would be to spend an entire day exploring all the adventure activities, relaxing at the spa or by the pool, dining at any one of the restaurants and finally retiring for the day in one of the tents that are set on a height giving a scenic view of the hills and the entire park. Welcome the morning with a hot cuppa and the mesmerising sunrise.
