DELLA Tecnica Group, a design and building company, has announced the launch of Della Adventure, a recreation park in Lonavala.

"The concept of recreation is perceived as rich man’s activity, whereas the truth is that recreation is priceless. This recreation park aims at making this fun available at a rate everyone can afford," said Jimmy Mistry, principal architect and managing director, Della Tecnica Group.

Spread over 36 acres, the premises houses 24 villas each between 3,500 to 4000 sq ft and priced from Rs 2.5 crore onwards. With an initial investment of Rs 200 crore, the group is ready with 30 suits for visitors.

there are 29 hobby activities such as golf, racing, archery, milking a cow and so on have been included," said Mistry.

With an initial investment of around Rs 200 crore, the group is ready with 30 suites for visitors and the number will be increased to 100 in the next two phases.

“We plan to replicate the model in 30 other cities in five phases. Next in line are Goa and Indore,” he added.
