

ON A HIGH: Jimmy Mistry (centre) with friends

Time for camaraderie

It was the warmth and friendship that Jimmy Mistry and wife Delnas extended at their party on Friday night that made the evening a success. After impressing everyone with his great speech, he proceeded to shake hands with almost everyone present as a show of his appreciation. Later, he was seen pouring champagne down people's throats as well! That was his own unique brand of camaraderie as he himself said, "I like to do things differently." The food was great and the bar runneth over. The DJ spun some great numbers and the surprise of the evening was the dance troupes that he had organised that grabbed everyone's attention. Some of the couple's friends spotted who were present included Laxman Popley's daughter Rhea and her husband Naresh Nasta and Dillip Popley.
